18 Jun 2019

Codipro USA, located in Greensburg, Pennsylvania, is becoming Codipro's exclusive partner in the United States.

Codipro offers lifting industry professionals its expertise, its technology and all the skills of a manufacturer since becoming a major player in the international markets. With this exclusive partnership in the USA, the company plans to develop business and increase its presence in the global lifting market.

"It's a heavily industrialized country in which safety standards for products and workers are very high. The collaboration with Benoit Cop [president, S for Safety Inc. and responsible for Codipro USA development] looks very promising and aligns perfectly with the Alipa Group's values, which support the personal and professional development of its employees," said Michèle Detaille, managing director, Alipa Group.

Benoit Cop has worked for Codipro for over ten years. When the opportunity arose, he decided to relocate to the United States with his family.

There will be significant on-site inventory, with 100% of Codipro's standard hoist rings in stock, ready to ship. In addition, a complete sales team will be on the road to meet with customer demand.

"Today, Codipro's professionalism in the lifting industry is recognized thanks not only to the quality of its swivel hoist rings, but also to the impeccable service which made it such a success in the European market," said Christophe Losange, director, Codipro.

"Settling in the USA represents a major professional and personal challenge. But the enormous potential of our rings in the American market and Codipro's desire to be better represented in the United States made the choice much easier. We have also been looking forward to this family adventure for several years. After several months of preparation, Codipro USA is now 100% operational and ready to meet any challenge our customers throw our way. The sky is the limit," said Cop.
